Deposits in county banks increase

Bank deposits in Williamson County increased by over $14 million during the past year, indicating the area's economy is healthy and growing stronger.

Fourteen of the fifteen county banks reported deposit figures, as of June 30, up from those for the same quarter of 1974, substantially in some cases.

Bank presidents contacted by the SUN attributed the rise to hopeful harvest and livestock prospects, local population growth, and renewed confidence in the national economy.

They also expressed optimism that the remainder of 1975 will present encouraging economic developments.

Georgetown banks recorded a combined increase of $1,755,042.

"I don't know where all this money came from," said First National's president W. R. Eanes, "but the outlook is good, especially for the last quarter of the year." First National's deposits jumped by $443,546 since last June.

Fred Knauth, vice-president of Citizens State in Georgetown, attributed his bank's $1,311,496 rise in deposits to "people saving more, and feeling better about the overall economic situation."

Burness Beck of the Union State Bank in Florence concurred in that opinion. "The economy is based on how people feel, and I think they're becoming more confident in the nation's economy," he said.

Union State enjoyed a deposits increase of $191,083 from June '74 to June '75.

"We've had steady growth in this area from both Austin and Killeen-Ft. Hood, which helps," Beck explained, "and of course a lot of grain has done well. I think we'll continue on this same trend for the rest of the year."

At Jarrell, president Cora Sexton of the First State Bank, confirmed that "things are in a little better shape around here."

First State's deposits rose by $42,887, and Miss

Sexton remarked, "We're looking for a good maize crop, more people are coming into the area, and we hope things will continue to get better through the year."

Six area banks recorded deposits increases of over a million dollars.

Farmers State of Round Rock had the largest increase, with a rise of $3,032,985.

The First-Taylor National was right behind with a leap of $2,234,771.

Bank of the Hills in Cedar Park recorded $2,234,771 more for the third largest deposits increase in the county.

City National of Taylor was fourth with an increase of $1,782,384.

Citizens State of Georgetown took in $1,311,496 more during the year, and Granger National had a $1,084,046 increase.

Taylor's two banks recorded the largest combined deposits leap in the county, a whopping $4,417,679.

Round Rock was next with $3,136,560 more.

Georgetown's $1,755,042 increases was next, and Granger had a combined deposits increase of $1,240,028.

Commissioners to set taxes

Williamson County Commissioners will set tax rates for the coming year at Monday's court meeting. The meeting will begin at 10 a. m. in the auditor's office, first floor of the county courthouse.

A decrease in tax rate has been predicted by Commissioners Wesley Foust and Wesley Johnson to offset the 25 percent increase in property valuations that the commissioners approved last December.

Foust said he will recommend that the rate be set at 80 cents per $100 valuation instead of 90 cents as it is now.

Other agenda items include "Consider Mass Gathering Act" as pertaining to the Willie Nelson 4th of July picnic held in Liberty Hill.

TAX EXEMPTIONS AVAILABLE

Homestead tax exemptions are still available to Georgetown residents 65 years old and over. Robert Caluette, Georgetown tax assessor-collector, says those residents may receive the exemption by registering at his office in the Municipal Building, 103 W. Seventh. The exemption allows those who qualify to deduct $3,000 from the assessed value of their taxable property.

THERE WILL BE A BUMPER MAIZE CROP THIS YEAR — that is the prediction of Williamson County farmer Norman Domel who farms and ranches four miles east of Georgetown. Domel said with all the rain, he believes he will make more maize this year than he ever has.

the passing glance

By Don Scarbrough

Frequently, as I pass the big old two story home of Mrs. A. E. McLean at 809 East University, I remember wistfully of that all-too-short span in my life when Clara and I joined about eighteen others at Mrs. McLean's boarding table!

NEVER BEFORE nor since have I consistently enjoyed lunch as then. Seated around the massive table was an interesting group, including the late Professor Luther J. Waggoner and Pearl A. Neas, along with business and professional people of the community. It was always a fine occasion for us, sort of a banquet and party all rolled into one. And the food! Five or six choices of meats, several vegetables, wonderful rolls or biscuits, a choice of desserts and drinks, all on the table family style. And that's what we were for a brief period, just one big happy family, eating wonderfully well and being entertained by Prof. Waggoner, who was a truly unique character.

Our period of dining with Mrs. McLean must have been around 1955. The whole thing finally got a little too much for this great little lady and she gave it up, to the genuine sorrow of all her regulars. The "board and room" custom, once prevalent here and elsewhere in the U.S., is gone forever, vanished with the ability to employ willing, intelligent and low-priced kitchen help.

IT WAS IN ABOUT this same time frame that the SUN employed a bright and pretty young journalism graduate, Helen Moss. Helen was our star. She handled a camera, any kind of story, picked up ads and made friends. She was also the object of several young men's affections, one being Edgar Martin Miles, the only local. Of course, we were all for Edgar Martin, expecting that should they wed they would settle here and Helen would be our reporter ever-after!

Edgar Martin ran the best campaign. He wooed and won her and in just a few weeks they were up and gone, which proves that editorial planning isn't worth much. We lost this fine couple but we stayed in touch. Helen went to work for the San Antonio Light and Edgar Martin Please turn to Page 10

Bumper crop expected

Maize harvest is beginning in Williamson County, principally in the very easternmost community of Coupland.

In the next few weeks the little golden nuggets of grain will be filling the hoppers of combines as fast as the machines can take them, in what local farmers predict will be the best maize crop in their recollection.

A spring hail storm damaged some of the crops through the Jarrell-Schwertner area, but most of them have come through with reasonably little setback. In other parts of the county the grain is getting redder with each sunny day.

A little problem in some of the fields is the variance in color of the heads of maize. There may be a green head just a foot or so away from one that is almost brown enough to harvest. This may be a problem in moisture content measuring when harvest begins. This could be the result of too much moisture or hail damage.

There is more maize this year in Williamson County than in many years. This is because the farmers were disappointed in cotton prices last year — too low to sell. Many are still holding last year's cotton, waiting for a decent price.

Norman Domel, who modestly agreed to be photographed by the SUN photographer Friday morning, said this is the first year in his life of farming that he has not planted cotton.

This is really a MAIZE year.

Week's news in a nutshell

Willie Nelson left a lot of satisfied customers after his Fourth of July Picnic near Liberty Hill last weekend, but County Commissioner Wesley Foust wasn't one of them. Foust filed suit Wednesday against Nelson in County Court Wednesday for alleged violations of a Texas law prohibiting more than 5,000 persons to gather for more than 12 hours in a single place.

The satisfied customers also left behind a lot of litter, according to law enforcement officers, and opinion around the county was divided about the picnic's merits or lack of same.

Noting that the gathering generated no crime or violence, one Liberty Hill resident quipped, "What city of 70,000 has that kind of record?"

Sgt. Fred Hurst of the Highway Patrol, however, said "The town of Liberty Hill was mistreated." He charged that the picnickers littered local streets and yards.

Sorghum acreage in Williamson County is up, but prices for this year's crop are estimated to be down.

According to Department of Agriculture figures, county farmers have planted as much as 20 thousand more acres in sorghum this year than last, but feed merchants in Georgetown and Taylor predict each hundred weight will bring only $3.50 to $3.85.

Last year's crop brought $4.25 to $5 per hundred weight.

National Housing Industries (NHI) representatives complained to the SUN Monday that "the City of Georgetown is not willing to sit down and negotiate with us."

The City has moved to annex NHI's planned Sherrill Oaks subdivision south of town, and the developers say this will kill their project. The NHI men also say they have been trying to talk with city officials for three months.

Liberty Hill school trustees kicked around preliminary budget figures of half a million dollars this week, and Leander trustees approved almost $2.3 million for next year. Jarrell trustees set a public hearing on next year's budget for August 4.

Charges filed

Williamson County Commissioner Wesley Foust filed three complaints in County Court Wednesday morning (after Sun's deadline for Thursday paper) charging Willie Nelson with violations of the Texas Mass Gathering Act.

Also named in the complaints is Crackerjack

Productions, Inc., a corporation owned solely by Nelson, and G and M Catering of Austin, the company which had a permit to sell beer at the picnic site.

The complaints charge that the defendants "unlawfully, intentionally and knowingly provided a mass gathering without first obtaining a permit." The Act provides that a permit be obtained from the county judge presiding in the county where such gathering is to be held.

NELSON and his promoters did not obtain a permit before the "Willie Nelson 3rd Annual 4th of July Picnic" held in Liberty Hill. Promoters contended that 5000 persons would not be in attendance at the picnic for more than 12 consecutive hours.

Foust said that the picnic, which drew more than 70,000 spectators violated the Act by more than 18 hours. He said that more than 5000 persons had arrived for the picnic by midnight July 3 and that there were still 5000 on the grounds by 6 a.m. July 5.

PROVISIONS OF THE ACT only apply if more than 5000 persons are present at a gathering for more than 12 consecutive hours. Violators may be fined up to $1000 and/or 90 days in jail. Violations are misdemeanors.

COUNTY ATTORNEY Norman Manning, who will prosecute the case, said he will try to get the case ready for docket call on July 23. That is an appearance date during which pre-trial hearings are usually set.

No other cases have been prosecuted under the Act which was passed by Texas legislators in 1972, according to Manning. He said he is giving the case a lot of his time.

BOND OF $1500 was posted for Nelson by his booking agent Paul English. Relatives of Nelson said Friday that the nationally known singer/song writer is in Hawaii and is not expected to return before August.

During meetings with county officials before the picnic, promoters representing Nelson assured county officials that the entertainment would not last more than 12 hours and that 5000 people would not be present for an extended time. At those meetings, promoters estimated a crowd of approximately 10,000 persons.

MEET MY MARTIN — Debra DeLoe, 11, introduces her friend Alfie, a very social Martin. She and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al DeLoe, found the baby bird a few weeks ago when it apparently fell from a roost in the side yard of their Weir home. Alfie was less than a month old then, and Debra says she has spent about four hours each day since gathering two or more cans full of grasshoppers for the bird, who "lets you know when he's hungry." Debra, a three-year resident of Weir who will be a sixth grader at Northside Middle School this year, named the little fella after her father. Looks like she's got a lifetime friend.

Applying the law

We are getting pretty close to a standing ovation for Comptroller Bob Bullock.

Bullock, who has been accused of shooting from the hip, has his people conducting raids on business firms throughout the state, mostly in Dallas, Houston and San Antonio, who have refused to pay the sales tax.

"THIS IS NOT YOUR MONEY," Bullock told a Dallas operator. "You have been taking your customers' nickels, dimes and quarters for the past five years and refusing to turn it in for the benefit of your state and your city." Bullock estimates that $60 million has been lost to the state in the last decade due to slovenly collection procedures.

About a dozen raids have been made. Some business firms have been pad-locked. This may be all that is needed as many formerly recalcitrant firms are seeing the picture and suddenly sending in their taxes or making arrangements to do so.

All of us may not like the sales tax, or any tax for that matter. Like it or not, however, it's here and it places an obligation on all of us, the customer to yield up his extra five per cent and the merchant to send that money, which does not belong to him, on in to the comptroller's office.

Unfortunately, in past years the comptroller has been lax in collecting this money. It's a different story now. Bob Bullock, the guy who calls them like he sees 'em, is in charge and he has his department enthusiastically applying the law equally to all the firms in Texas who operate with a sales tax permit. This is the way it should be.

Bullock, incidentally, has ruffled a lot of legislative feathers by stating that the new State Constitution, if adopted by the voters late this year, will raise the cost of state government a billion dollars. This statement, unless modified or carefully explained, could make it difficult for the document to win voter approval. There is the chance, too, that Governor Briscoe will find fault with the new version and if he does, and Bullock agrees, there won't be a new State Constitution, many believe. At least, not this year.

POWER ALKS by U.S. Senator for Texas JOHN TOWER

WASHINGTON—A partisan power play may deprive the citizens of a sovereign state of the right to choose who will represent them in the U.S. Senate.

The Democratic majority in the Senate is practicing the "old politics" in the dispute over who won the election for the U.S. Senate in New Hampshire last year.

The election last November between Republican Louis Wyman and Democrat John Durkin plainly is too close to call, even though the New Hampshire Ballot Law Commission, whose authority has been upheld by the federal courts, has awarded the victory to Republican Wyman by a margin of two votes.

Clearly, the dispute should be sent back to New Hampshire for another election. This is what the people of New Hampshire want. This is what the duly certified winner of the election, Sen. Wyman, has advocated. But the Democratic majority intends to force the Senate to turn its back on pressing national business for the rest of the month to itself to decide the outcome of the Wyman-Durkin race.

The majority is setting a precedent that could haunt the Senate for many years. Never before has the Senate interfered in an election in which there has been no allegation of fraud.

Democrat Durkin has not alleged that the election was stolen from him: he has merely asked the Senate, with its top-heavy Democratic majority, to overturn the judgment of the voters and seat him instead of the duly certified winner.

The actions of the Senate Rules Committee in the Wyman-Durkin dispute raise many questions about the intentions of the majority.

The kindest description of the Rules Committee behavior is that it has not been even-handed. It has frequently made judgments contrary to New Hampshire law. It has ruled one way on some disputed ballots, and the exact opposite way on similar ballots. It has examined virtually all of the ballots protested by one candidate, and hardly any of the ballots protested by the other. The only consistency in the committee's actions is that they have all tended to favor Democrat Durkin.

A flagrant example of the all-too-common partisanship of the Rules Committee was the acceptance of two straight Democratic ballots cast by the same woman. She'd cast the other for her dying sister, she said.

This partisanship has changed the issue from the narrow question of whether Wyman or Durkin will be seated to a matter of grave concern for all Americans. Are we to establish a precedent whereby the loser of a close election, if his party is in a majority in the Senate, will go to the Senate to have the verdict of the voters overturned? I fear for democracy if this is so.

Toward a definition of poetry

At the cost of considerable philosophic confusion, men persist in returning to the conviction that poetry is a mode of perception, a dream more exalted and comprehensible than discursive logic. Again and again we discover that poetry communicates with us, as does the dance, through a sequence of symbolic gestures, the meaning of which is generally inseparable from a formal pattern. It is from the very balance of rhythmic cognition, of elevated reality, that great poetry is born.

But whatever the case, poetry is always the art of rhythmic elation by words with a recurrent pattern; it is musical expression of our spirit. Such an expression can be achieved only through the mathematically sensitive use of language, through the existence of exactly quantified transrational and incantatory elements within the poem.

In its final perspective, poetry remains sacred geometry. The adjective "sacred" puts before us the question: is not the making of a poem also the saying of a prayer?

OIL BOOM IN ALABAMA

Here's a switch: New York City is bankrupt and Alabama is getting rich.

THEY'VE STRUCK OIL in deep Dixie!

I grew up in Tulsa during Oklahoma's oil boom days, and while we didn't share in the bonanza we did share in the excitement.

I shared it again during recent visits to Alabama.

I've often wondered why Houston didn't happen in Mobile. Mobile, Ala., has the same climate and the same port potential, yet that city tended to go fishing while Houston got busy and got rich.

Many Mobile folks will tell you that theirs is another kind of riches which might be diminished by too much prosperity. Anyway, we're about to find out.

Not 20 miles north of Mobile somebody brought in an oil well. In the months since a dozen other wells thereabouts have made southwest Alabama the hottest spot for wildcatters in this hemisphere.

Alabama State Geologist Philip LaMoreaux says, "A lot of people are getting ready to make a lot of money."

"No doubt about it," he says, "this is a major new field — or fields."

No fever is more highly contagious than oil fever. Anybody who hears about anybody buying a lease for $25 an acre and selling it for $3,000 an acre is ready to bid $4,000.

A HUNDRED MILLION dollars has been paid out for mineral rights thereabouts in the past 24 months.

If that sounds like a lot of money, try this in your computer: Just one of these new wells promises long-term production in excess of 4,000 barrels a day.

At present prices — $11 a barrel — that's $44,000 each day each well!

Letters from readers are welcome. All are subject to condensation. We assume no responsibility for statements made.

Helen Chesley of Liberty Hill called to say that the SUN presented both sides of the story. She had complained about other papers making the people of Liberty Hill appear bad. She said that what trash that has been picked up has been picked up by Liberty Hill residents although she admitted that Nelson promoters may have hired the local boy's club to help pick up trash.

Dear Editor:

I must respond to the article in July 10 issue quoting our poor overworked law officers. Even allowing for traditional misquotations and reportorial errors one must still assume some accuracy in the quotes. It wouldn't do to call Sgt. Hurst a liar but I will say that the quotes attributed to him are so exaggerated as to inhibit acceptance of their veracity.

As for 75 and 80 year old people picking up trash, I certainly question the truth of that. If they were picking up anything it was money. I was up and down the streets several times Saturday and Sunday and saw no such people. The money I am talking about was in the salvagable bottles, aluminum cans, blankets, sleeping bags etc. abandoned by the visitors. One man came to my place with two

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Panama Canal: Trouble Ahead

WASHINGTON -- State Department officials warn privately that the Panama Canal soon may be sabotaged, and anti-American riots can be expected in the streets of Panama.

For more than a decade, the State Department has been negotiating to return the sovereignty over the Canal back to Panama. This was the year it was supposed to happen.

But right-wingers in the Pentagon and on Capitol Hill have been fighting the idea for all they're worth. One resolution sponsored by South Carolina's Sen. Strom Thurmond called for "the undiluted sovereignty of the United States" over the Panama Canal.

And just a few days ago, the House voted overwhelmingly to deny funds for negotiating a new Panama Canal treaty.

This strong opposition has forced Secretary of State Henry Kissinger to back off the issue. As one insider put it, "Henry is better than a buzzard when it comes to smelling death. He knows the Canal treaty is a dead issue."

But in Panama it is a live issue. There will be sabotage attacks on the Canal and trouble in the streets, sure as shooting, if a new treaty isn't negotiated this year.

Fuel Flim-Flam: The oil barons gave the nation a Fourth of July present: higher gas prices. The price boosts came just in time to coincide with the heavy-driving season.

Of course, the oilmen claim this was all a coincidence. Higher costs, they say, forced them to raise prices.

But the truth is that the oil companies have learned from the Arabs. As gas became plentiful and prices began dropping, the major oil firms cut back their refinery production.

Rather than let their profits be determined by the whims of the free market, they merely produced less gasoline. Not enough to create a shortage, but just enough to send prices up before the big vacation season.

The arrogance of their timing, however, has caused new rumbles on Capitol Hill. There is talk in congressional corridors again of nationalizing the oil industry. A growing number of congressmen believe that the nation's energy needs are too vital to entrust to the care of the greedy oil tycoons.

Veto-Prone Congress: The Watergate scandal brought a major housecleaning on Capitol Hill. The political breezes blew in a number of reformers, who promptly set about making improvements.

The overwhelming Democratic majority was expected to ride roughshod over President Ford. Almost everyone, including the President himself, predicted that Congress would be veto-proof.

Instead Congress has been veto-prone. The former Congress overrode four out of eight Ford vetoes. But the new Congress hasn't been able to override a single veto.

For example, have been in session 17 days longer than a year ago, but they have passed 11 fewer bills. Most of the key measures are still awaiting congressional action.

Philippine Problems: President Ferdinand Marcos of the Philippines is having his troubles. We recently reported, for example, that he offered a $50,000 bribe to a former Filipino official not to testify before Congress about corruption in the Philippines. Now he stands a chance of losing a rare opportunity to enhance his image. Here are the details:

The heavyweight champion of the world, Muhammad Ali, is scheduled to fight his preeminent challenger, Joe Frazier, in the Philippines this fall. As Ali put it, in his inimitable fashion, there will be a "thrilla in Manila."

Our sources report, however, that a group of Philippine-American Muslims have cabled Ali, urging him not to fight in

Manila. Marcos would use the favorable publicity, they said, "to bolster his tyranny."

Ali is a deeply religious Muslim himself. There is a good chance, say our sources, that he will honor the request of his brethren.

Lot of Bull: Defense Secretary James Schlesinger recently displayed some satellite pictures taken over the African country of Somalia, and pointed out some large structures which he said were Russian missile bases. In response, the Soviets claimed the buildings were actually a meat-packing plant. Schlesinger, with a sly smile, declared that the Russians must be processing a steer "the size of Paul Bunyan's ox."

Fuddle Factory: Freshman Sen. Pat Leahy wants to create a select committee that will systematically abolish unnecessary government bodies. The Vermont Democrat points out that in the last 15 years, 236 federal agencies, boards and commissions have been established, but only 21 have been shut down.

Phantom Speeches: Rep. Bill Steiger, R-Wis., is trying to make an honest document out of the Congressional Record. For years, congressmen have been able to reprint undelivered speeches in the Record, just as if they had held their colleagues entranced.

Steiger, however, has persuaded 52 of his colleagues to support a resolution which would provide that nondelivered speeches appear in a different type face.

Copyright, 1975, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

Bob Smith gets the owner's one-eighth interest in three wells on his property. He'll take in $35,000 a month.

Konrad Mims owns 82 acres of woodland for which he's been offered a hundred times what he paid five years ago. He says he'll wait for a better price.

Around the edges of any such discovery are the hot-shot promoters who seek money from doctors and dentists, lawyers and merchants and widows — and churches.

The promoter, for "putting the deal together," keeps a percentage for himself.

Sometimes these independent wildcatters make themselves and their investors rich. Usually, however, the advantage is with the biggies who can bid higher and lease more and hold on longer.

UNION AND GETTY are already on the scene, and other oil company giants are on the way.

How far this oil field — or fields — will extend nobody can know for sure until they punch a lot more holes in the ground.

Already, however, it's certain that Alabama will be a major petroleum producing state in the 1980s. One of our poorest states will become one of our richest.

And Mobile may well become another Houston — for better or worse.

Stuart Long Austin Notebook

AUSTIN — Texas Republicans are gleeful at their prospects for the 1976 elections.

With the help of Federal court decisions, legislative actions and new Republican leadership in the person of Rep. Ray Hutchison of Dallas, a savvy lawyer who did a lot to make legislative Democrats go wrong in the recent legislative session, they have high hopes of making real progress in picking up more clout in 1976.

What has the Republican liberty bells ringing is the fact that, for the first time, there will be no big league Democrats running for statewide office next year. The voters said "yes" to four-year terms for most statewide officials. So there will be a candidate for the Railroad Commission, candidates for the high courts, and no one else to bring out the votes in November.

This can mean a real drop-off in total voter turnout. Sen. John Tower will be on the Republican ballot for another term in the U. S. Senate. There seems likely to be a fairly lackadaisical race for president. And Republicans have always felt that they can get their troops to the polls and win those low turn-out elections.

Democratic state officials, who got their races set in the non-presidential years, thought they were cutting up a fat political pig by having their elections in "off years."

But it may turn out, Republican strategists feel, that while Gov. Dolph Briscoe and others are enjoying a free ride in 1976, they will be able to bite off a good chunk of the 150 House seats and 15 Senate seats which will be up that year.

The new single-member districts in nine more major counties are the first targets.

The director of research for the Republican general headquarters feels they can pick up nine seats in those nine counties. They feel they can get three or four in Tarrant County, now all Democratic. Then they expect to get one in El Paso, one in Travis, one in Lubbock and perhaps one more in El Paso and one in Nueces. The Nueces district they hope to win is that in which Rep. DeWitt Hale, a veteran Democrat, would be living. If Hale runs again, the Republicans won't bother. If he tries for something else like a judgeship, they believe that will become a GOP district.

Added to the 16 Republican House seats they now hold, that would make 25, and the goal is to have 40 of the 150 by 1980.

"With no governor's race to drain off campaign money and to bring in Democratic votes, it is a unique opportunity to concentrate on legislative races," one top Republican explained. And that is just what they intend to do.

With even 25 House members, and the Democrats

Linda Kotrla at Farm Bureau Seminar at Baylor

Linda Kotrla, a junior at Georgetown High School, will be among some 500 students throughout the state attending the Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar on the campus of Baylor University July 14 to July 18. Linda will be a guest representing the Future Homemakers of America Association. Other guests from the Texas Future Farmers and 4-H Club Council are also being invited to attend this thirteenth annual Seminar sponsored by the Farm Bureau.

The Seminar will be an intensive course in citizenship, our American heritage, the proper role of government and the threat of communism. It is designed to complement the formal education of these young folks and to make it more meaningful to them. Several lectures will concern first-hand accounts of people who have dealt directly with communist intrigue which, naturally, will have great appeal to these students. However, other phases of the Seminar dealing with the danger of America losing its system of government because of apathy and misunderstanding of issues, are equally, if not more important.

This comprehensive program should prove invaluable to our future citizens, giving them a better idea of what has made this country great and what must be done to preserve it. The students attending this Seminar have been selected to attend because of their leadership ability and high moral character. Linda is presently the president of the Georgetown FHA chapter, and in past years, she has served as fourth vice-president as well as parliamentarian of her local chapter. Last year she was the Area VII fifth vice-president, thus making her able to attend the National FHA Convention at Chicago, Illinois. Linda also participates in the girls' athletic programs of basketball and tennis. This 5'8" brown eyed brunette boasts being the secretary of the newly organized Junior Historian Club. Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kotrla of Rt. 1, Georgetown.

Letters to the Editor

pick up loads of blankets etc. Another had a pickup load of bottles worth a nickel apiece.

Several truck loads of aluminum cans passed by. I myself redeemed over ten dollars worth of bottles. Proportionately there was no more trash on the streets than on a normal weekend. I'm here every day. How often does Hurst come to Liberty Hill? I contend this is the first time he and his men have really had to work since being in this county. If traffic was snarled this is a reflection on his men's ability to perform under pressure.

I do expect to be harassed because of this letter. I already witnessed Officer Wade intimidating some people. When I said in his presence I would gladly testify to his statements he changed his attitude. So you can locate me Sgt. Hurst, I run the Corner Carry Out and the Corner Washateria. The only downtown businesses open during the show and providing the only free public toilet and a water hose for people to wash off the mud.

In closing, let me say that if the lawmen do not like the job they were hired or elected to do let them resign. If not, then let's be scrupulously fair in our public statements. (Note the difference between Hurst's statements and the Sheriff's department). Let's not try to curry favor with disgruntled politicians whose pride is hurt for being so wrong. Remember we are the ones who pay your salaries and I'll compare my taxes with yours any day of the week.

Yours truly,
James M. Burnett
Liberty Hill

Editor's Note: There is no doubt that some of the Liberty Hill business people, and others, profited by the Nelson event. Some Georgetown business firms also took in more money. On the other hand, quite a few of the residents of Liberty Hill were deeply shocked by the proceedings, while others either enjoyed it or shrugged it off. Let's hope the police, even though they let 70,000 people overwhelm them for a period on narrow, country roads, don't resign their jobs. I wouldn't

Man's triumph over a Menace to Life...

Sharks have always been man's enemies in the sea. They are a danger to the shipwrecked, and occasionally threaten the lives of swimmers along our coastal waters. Sharks are only one of the many dangers that man faces every day. The world, today, is in a turmoil and we must be alert and on guard for the enemies' moves. Now is the time to trust in the Lord and to seek His help.

"Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. O my God, I trust in thee; let me not be ashamed, let not mine enemies triumph over me."

Psalms 25, 1-2

Of Federal Revenue Sharing Funds

County spends 1/3 on roads, bridges

Williamson County Commissioners spent 37 percent of federal Revenue Sharing funds received during Entitlement Period 5 (July 1, 1973, to June 30, 1975) for "public transportation."

According to a report prepared by County Auditor Ben Kurio, capital expenditures for the four commissioners precincts and a commissioners communication system cost $72,997. Another $31,834 was spent on operating maintenance for the road and bridge precincts.

A balance of $74,911.23 remained in the Revenue Sharing funds at the end of the entitlement period. Interest drawn on the funds totaled $4,242.07.

The largest portion of the funds—$90,186—were spent in the category of Health. Of that amount $58,353 went to purchase ambulances and equipment. Another $5,609 was for ambulance services at $5 per call before the county am-balance service was in operation. An expenditure of $1222 was made for county ambulance service supplies.

Twenty thousand dollars was spent for the Williamson County Health Department (1975 budget) and $5000 for the health department (1974 budget).

Under "public safety" $18,750

was spent for rural fire appropriations, $28,150 for sheriff's office salaries, $348 for freezer for jail, and $995 as radio for sheriff's office.

Capital expenditures under "multipurpose and general government" were $21,932 toward the new Williamson County office building at 103 W. Third St. Others were $2916 for electric typewriters, $1753 for office desks, $2046 for secretarial desks, $2139 for chairs for courthouse, $2697 for document files, $488 for filing cabinets, $312 for range and exhaust fan for jail, $181 for water cooler for courthouse and $1615 for Eastman Kodak Magna Print Reader.

"The Sunshine Boys" stars Gale Gordon at C.D. Playhouse

Gale Gordon stars in "The Sunshine Boys" which opened July 8 at the Country Dinner Playhouse.

Gordon will be remembered as Mr. Mooney, the banker boss of Lucille Ball, on "The Lucy Show" and before that as Osgood Conklin, the pompous principal of Eve Arden on "Our Miss Brooks", as well as many movies.

In "The Sunshine Boys" the 69 year old veteran actor plays an out-of-work vaudeville actor who takes his audience on a nostalgic journey as he is reunited with his old partner and they go into rehearsal for their most famous skit to be played on a historical show.

He is ably assisted by a cast of five.

The Heymakers, the Country Dinner Playhouse group of singing and dancing waiters and waitresses, give one of their better fresh and entertaining preshow performances.

This new show will run through August 10.

Church To Honor Retiring Pastor

The First Presbyterian Church of Georgetown will honor their pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Warren Hall, on Sunday, July 27 from 3 to 5 p. m. in the church fellowship hall.

Rev. Hall is retiring at the end of this month.

Friends of the Halls are cordially invited to be present.

Fewer Americans going abroad

The recession and higher prices caused the biggest drop in foreign travel by Americans last year since the initiation of mass jet travel, Commerce Department figures indicate.

About 6.4 million Americans visited other countries last year, compared with 6.8 million in 1973, the department says.

The drop was the largest since World War II, but the $9.2 billion they spent was a record high, the figures show.

The department blamed higher air fares, inflated prices abroad, and deterioration of the dollar in relation to foreign currencies for the 8.2 percent increase in spending.

Western Europe remained the most popular destination for U.S. travelers, but both the number of persons visiting there and the amount of money they spent dropped last year.

At the same time, spending in countries closer to home was up at a more rapid pace than the previous year.

For instance, spending in the West Indies and Central America registered a 20.2 percent increase.

Major and Mrs. Darrell Dunlop and family who have been stationed on Guam, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Parsons and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dunlop. They are now moving to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Alberts spent the 4th of July at their trailer home at Lake Buchanan. Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Wilson of Burnet joined them there as did some other friends.

July 4 guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Ray were Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Knight and Rayne of Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Amaral and Becky of Temple.

Spending the 4th together at the San Gabriel Park in Georgetown were: Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. John Cowan, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smoot and children all of Austin, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Parsons of Florence, Mrs. Edith Read, Mrs. Ethel Reed and Miss Venice Dunlop of Andice.

Mrs. Troy Ray and Mrs. Peter Amaral were shopping in Georgetown Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Caskey were in Lampasas Tuesday to visit Mrs. Dollie Caskey.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Ray were visitors in Round Rock and Temple during the past week.

Mrs. Estelle Stapp, a retired teacher of 35 years in the Texas Public Schools, chiefly in the Florence area, was presented a certificate as Citizen of the Month at the Chamber of Commerce meeting. In an interview, Mrs. Stapp said, "It was my desire to teach my students to be good citizens."

Mrs. Stapp is a member of the Florence Methodist Church, has served on the church administrative board, taught Sunday School in the adult department. She helped organize the Williamson County Retired Teachers' Association, and served as the first president. She is an active member of the Eastern Star, American Legion Auxiliary, member of the volunteer band who work at the V. A. Center in Temple, where she has received a 500 hour service bar.

Effie McLeod Reporter

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McLeod of LaCoste visited in the McLeod home during the weekend and also visited in the William Williams home in Jarrell where Mrs. Williams is ill.

Miss Effie McLeod attended the Historical Commission meeting in Georgetown Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanton W. Gardner of Arlington and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice L. Gardner of Kerrville arrived in Florence Wednesday for a few days' stay.

Wade, the honoree, Mrs. A. B. Fisher, Mrs. Lloyd Lockhart, Mrs. Beatrice McVey, Mrs. H. L. Parsons, and Mrs. Tom Fisher.

Once more we found out last week how kind the people of the Florence area are when you have trouble. Their prayers, food, and visits were a great help. We would like so much to know who left the good coffee cake with no name on it. Every thoughtful act was appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Price and Lea Ann were in Crosby recently to visit Rev. and Mrs. Robert Koch.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Daniel spent several days in Houston at an FFA meeting.

JAIME JUDITH GRAY
— Director of Student Activities at Southwestern

Southwestern names new activities director

Jaime Judith Gray has taken the post of Director of Student Activities at Southwestern University at Georgetown. In her second week on the job where she has been attacking the paperwork and scheduling of her office, she says she is looking forward to the fall semester.

"I can hardly wait for the students to get here so we can begin working together for a full program," she says with enthusiasm.

"After all, this is the student's Union, and from what I've heard they have had some outstanding programs and activities these past few years."

Already planned is an artists' series with such varied entertainment as a jazz combo, a Shakespeare production, and dual pianists. Other programs include a series of Alfred Hitchcock films and the Free University that has proved popular in years past.

Ms. Gray will be filling the post vacated by Truitt Gilbreath who has left to continue work on his graduate degree. Ms. Gray will also have some additional duties. She will have the responsibilities of the Student Union, Student Government advising, the university calendar, and she will be the general advisor for student organizations.

"Everyone has been very helpful and friendly since I've been here," Ms. Gray says, adding that she was already somewhat familiar with the campus. She used to be a cheerleader at St. Mary's University in San Antonio, and she led St. Mary's fans to the Georgetown campus several times for Big State Conference basketball encounters. She received a B.A. from St. Mary's in drama with a minor in English.

This past year Ms. Gray served an internship in admissions and placement at the University of Iowa, where she earned an M.A. in college student personnel services. She also worked in the office of the Equal Opportunity Programs and in the office of Housing Services at the same school.

The funds will help to expand the offerings of the Cody Memorial Library at Southwestern, which already has a widely acclaimed rare books section along with extensive resource materials and microfilm periodical library and microfilm readers.

Golf and tennis players get letters

Golfers and tennis players who helped lead Southwestern University at Georgetown to runners-up positions in both sports in the Big State Conference have been awarded letters, according to Dr. T. L. Kassen, athletic director.

Kassen, who coached the tennis team to within one point of the championship, named Jay Elder of LaMarque, Cliff Leonard of Anniston, Spencer Cluff of Dallas, and David McNitzky of Corpus Christi as lettermen. Elder and Leonard were both juniors last season while Cluff was a sophomore and McNitzky a freshman.

Coach Bill Merritt of the golf team named as lettermen Jack Lyons of Mercedes, Mark Coward of Hutto, Smith Tonahill of Jasper, Mark Kissell of Bartlesville, Okla., and Les Russell of Ozona. Only Lyons graduated this past season. Coward, who was the NAIA regional medalist, was a junior last season while Tonahill was a sophomore and Kissell and Russell both freshmen.

The Walburg Farm Bureau will hold a business meeting on Sunday, July 20, 1975 at 7:30 p.m. at the Walburg Community Center. Refreshments will be served.

Local girl scout to Wyoming camp

Patricia Thomas, daughter of Mrs. Etoy Thomas of Georgetown, has been chosen to represent Georgetown Senior Girl Scout Troop 298 at the Girl Scout National Center West in Wyoming from July 16-25, according to her leader, Mrs. R. B. Motheral.

Local sponsors for Patricia's trip are the Georgetown Girl Scouts and the Georgetown Rotary Club.

Sixteen girls and four adults from families in Austin and Georgetown will have the opportunity this summer to visit an archeological dig, fish for trout in a mountain stream, cook meals over a charcoal stove, go horseback riding, or do whatever they want to do, at Girl Scout National Center West in Wyoming. The girls, from several different neighborhoods and ethnic backgrounds, have already begun working together to prepare for the trip, since the preliminary camp-outs, cook-outs, money-earning activities - and, especially, getting to know each other - are an important part of the total experience.

This "Wyoming Trek" is made possible by the Lone Star Girl Scout Council with the aid of a grant from the DeWitt Wallace Reader's Digest Scholarship Fund and contributions from the girls' own communities. Whether a girl is, or ever was, a Girl Scout was not a criterion in the selection process. The DeWitt Wallace grant, approximately $5500, will cover all expenses for transportation, food, lodging, medical examinations and insurance, and activity fees during the two-week trip. The Lone Star Council provides all group camping and cooking equipment and handles administration of the project. The girls, with the help of community donations and fund-raising efforts such as car washes and bake sales, raised about $150 each to supplement their own clothing needs, personal items, and personal camping gear, as well as to reimburse the Council for money advanced for food and incidental expenses of the planning and practice sessions.

These 13- to 16-year-olds have accepted the challenge not just of becoming good campers, but of understanding themselves and others in the mini-society of the newly-formed Wyoming Trek patrols.

Bicentennial Bits

by Barry Trask

Legends have a way of swallowing people; man and hero merge to become myth. One of our legendary heroes was created 88 years after the celebrated event—45 years after the man died.

In 1863, the pressures of Civil War created a demand for popular heroes. Henry W. Longfellow wrote a stirring poem, "The Ride of Paul Revere"; a man on a horse galloping through the black night, crying the alarm in quiet villages, and hurrying on a warning voice in the dark.

Without Longfellow's poetic portrayal, Paul Revere would have remained as unheralded as his friend Billy Dawes, who also rode from Boston on the same night for the same purpose.

In 1775, Paul Revere was 40 years old; in those days past middle age. He was bold, steady, vigorous, and sensible. While not one of the well-educated revolutionary elite, he was a valuable ally; a man of action.

Revere had joined the lively "Sons of Liberty". He had taken an active part in the "Tea Party", and the "Boston Massacre". Of more importance were his duties as a courier for Sam Adams' "Committees of Correspondence" — a device created to pass radical information between the Colonies. Paul rode often, and one year made four round trips from Boston to Philadelphia.

Massachusetts Governor Hutchinson, a native-born Bostonian, had gone to England to report on the intransigent rebels. General Gage, British Commander, had been ordered to use his Boston-based troops against the "Patriots", whose "Minute Men" had been drilling and accumulating arms.

The impending action became obvious. On Sunday, (the lantern hanging was on Tuesday), Revere rode to Concord to warn patriots to get men and ox-carts busy hiding cannon, ammunition, sacks of bullets, and flour. On his return he stopped in Charlestown to make plans for the signal — "one if by land and two if by sea" — and to ask wealthy John Larkin to have ready his best horse, should it be needed.

On Tuesday night the troops began to move. The time had come. Joseph Warren sent for Paul Revere and "begged that I would immediately set off for Lexington, where Messrs. Hancock and Adams were, and it was thought they were the ob-

School of Missions draws Methodist women

Methodist women from all over Texas will be taking part in the School of Christian Missions being held at Southwestern University at Georgetown July 11-16.

Two groups are expected to attend — one group for the program that continues through Sunday and another for the program that will be held Monday through midday on July 16.

The group opened Friday with a meeting of the school committee at 3 p.m. and another meeting following dinner for the faculty and the school committee. A full agenda has been planned for the School of Christian Missions, including these programs:

—"Southeast Asia" chaired by Dr. Ernestine Clark with teachers Mrs. Inez Christenberry, chairperson of the Leadership Development Team of the South Central Jurisdiction Core Planning Group in Louisiana; and Mrs. Cecil Matthews, a member of the United Methodist Board of Global Ministries.

for the The Women's Division, New York.

—"Tour of Wesleyan Homes," a trip to the Wesleyan Home for retired persons operated by the Central Texas Conference of United Methodists.

—"Group Dynamics," an attempt to discover the resources of a group and the bank of talent that is in any group.

—"We Can Do It," how to involve the local church and individuals in mission. The leader is Myong Gul Son of Korea.

—"Women and the Biblical Perspective," a look at the theological doctrines of God, Christ, Man, and Salvation through woman's eyes.

—"Time's a Wastin'," a discussion of some practical and creative ways to use time to accomplish the important tasks and have time left for the things one would like to do.

—"Bishop's Call to Peace and Self-Development," an exploration of some of the causes of war, poverty, and hunger, and the meanings of peace and self-development.

—"Creative Worship," involvement and experience are the two key words which describe how participants will worship creatively on the sub-

Herman Sons picnic and dance

The Round Rock Hermann Sons Lodge III held its regular meeting at the Picnic area by the Trinity Lutheran Home. There was plenty of barbecue and drinks for all. Games were enjoyed throughout the evening.

During the business meeting five applications for membership were voted on and accepted. The new members are Bill, Joyce, Tracie and Bryan Cumpston and Gladys Horn. One new member was initiated.

Plans were discussed and made for the upcoming 2nd Membership Drive Kick-off ject of an "important world issue."

—"Doctrinal Standards of the United Methodist Church," an overview of the doctrines and doctrinal standards of the United Methodist Church.

Dance to be held July 27 from 5 till 9:00 p.m. at The Hacienda Club (formerly Big G's). Tickets for the dance are now being sold. Music will be by Adolph Hofner and the Pearl Wranglers from San Antonio. This is a public dance and everyone is invited.

Four of our Junior members attended The Hermann Sons Camp at Comfort, Texas this past week. They are Renee, LaClaire, Renee Womble, Debbie Parker, and Vicki Remmert. This is just one of the benefits offered by The Sons of Hermann.

Young veterans charm theatre first nighters in 'Hansel and Gretel'

The Sunday SUN
Page 7

Georgetown, Texas
Sunday, July 13, 1975

The children of Georgetown took over the theater Friday with their opening night production of "Hansel and Gretel," a play by Madge Miller based upon the classic tale. The production continues today with a 2:00 p.m. matinee, next Friday night at 8:00 p.m. and special matinee performances next Saturday and Sunday at 2:00 p.m. Stellar performances by cast and crew came as no surprise to anyone familiar with the already broad experiences of the young veterans of stage.

Seventh grader Kevin Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Pillo plays Hansel. He has played Wm. B. Travis in a history play, the king in "The Book That Saved the Earth," a lead part in "A Children's Holiday," and a crack-pot scientist in "Space Ship Santor Marin." He has written, directed, and played in three plays in addition to extensive staging of puppet shows.

Rachel Venable, a freshman at GHS, plays Gretel. Her experience includes parts as Peter Rabbit, Fat Lady Wobble, an Indian in GACT'S "Summer Fun" and "The Littlest Angel." She also plays the flute.

Adrienne Holmans, playing the Witch, lists credits from playing a flower in the 1st grade to directing and acting in the recent GHS Drama Club production of "The Brave Little Tailor." Miss Holmans celebrated her sixteenth birthday on "Hansel and Gretel's" opening night. In addition to extensive acting experience she is an award winning speech contestant, and collects owls. Lisa Racine, GHS freshman, portrays Katrin, the mother. Her study of expression, blocking, and pantomime has served her well in several school productions. An honor roll student, Miss Racine favors History, English, and Speech in school subjects and lists swimming, bowling, and drama as hobbies.

Janet Kegel has been an usher for GACT shows. That exposure to theater led to her playing an Indian in "Summer Fun" and her role in this production as Helga, whom she describes as a "cage person." She is fourteen, in the seventh grade, and the daughter of GACT activists Tony and Rita Kegel.

Amy Racine professes little experience in plays, but she has played an old lady in a kindergarten production and narrated a fourth grade play. An A and B student entering the 7th grade, she likes all subjects and all outdoor sports.

Eleven year old Julie Holmans reports acting, dancing, singing, and crew work in no less than thirteen productions. She says she has been an usher for so many plays she cannot remember all of them. Her current role as Trudi the cat calls upon her award winning experience in dance and sports.

Kathy Damman has a shadow called Katrina. She is in the seventh grade at Georgetown Jr. High and says that playing the First Fairy is her first acting experience. She enjoys choir, fossil rocks and shells, trampoline, and doing gymnastic things.

One of "Hansel and Gretel's" butterflies is eight year old Laurie Holmans who reports, "my cousin and I had some plays and here are some I directed: 'Pumpkin Tree' (fair), 'Monster Mash', 'Lady Lion', and I also was in 'Cinderella' I was a mouse. I also was in a program in the 3rd grade."

The fine crew of "Hansel and Gretel" includes lighting veteran Jamie Duffy. Only eleven years old, he has already directed three plays, been in charge of lights for GACT's one act "Lemonade", and worked on sets for "An Evening of One Acts", "First Lady", "Count Dracula", and the recent melodrama production "Because their hearts were pure."

Sheri Hinesley, a seventh grader, a GJHS is props mistress. Besides experience in acting and props, she lists hobbies including making soap and loving animals.

Donna Holmans is in charge of sets and drew the cover design for "Hansel and Gretel" programs. Her dramatic experience includes actress, puppeteer, dancer, properties, paint crew, and design. Miss Holmans is an award winning artist, and a freshman at Georgetown High School.

Nikki Lawyer and Verlene Landry are directing this fine production. Photographs are courtesy of Natalie Hubbard. Choreography is under the direction of 1975 GHS graduate Lisa Landry. Also appearing in the cast are John Duffy, Jay Mason, Lori Landry, Pip Hubbard, Doug Lawyer, Michelle Abbey, Kathy Dammon, De Ann Mason, and Jill Fuller.

Advance reservations are available at 863-5875. Tickets ($1.50 Adults, 75¢ children) will also be available at the door, 601 Austin Avenue, prior to performances—Saturday and Sunday matinees this week and next; and next Friday night.

BUTTERFLIES WHO DANCE IN A DREAM — are played by Melodee Norment, Laurie Holmans, and Kathy Mason in the Georgetown Area Community Theater production of "Hansel and Gretel" now playing at 601 Austin Avenue. This weekend and next weekend, July 11, 12, 13 — 18, 19, 20 the performances are on Friday evenings and Saturday and Sunday matinees.

The 64th Legislature wisely approved a bill that will guarantee that farm and ranch land is taxed on its productive value, which should make it possible for more family agricultural operations to survive. But in the future more legislative action will probably be required to insure that the family farm survives and flourishes. I personally believe family farms must survive, for they are representative of individual responsibility that lies at the base of our nation's strength.

stayed with his music, working hard and moving up. They had their family, two girls, and Edgar Martin achieved his ambition of becoming a college professor, at St. Mary's University in San Antonio, and earning a doctorate in his chosen field. Their daughter, Mrs. Marsha Spinner, came to Georgetown to teach music in our public schools. Then, as everything seemed wonderful, Edgar Martin became ill. Still a young man, he died last week and was buried back in Georgetown, near the grave of his father. His mother resides at the Wesleyan.

EDGAR MARTIN was an absolutely fine person. I doubt that he ever had a mean thought about anybody. It's hard to express how sorry all of us are that he had to leave so soon, when there was still so much ahead.

Deposits in county banks increase

Bank deposits in Williamson County increased by over $14 million during the past year, indicating the area's economy is healthy and growing stronger.

Fourteen of the fifteen county banks reported deposit figures, as of June 30, up from those for the same quarter of 1974, substantially in some cases.

Bank presidents contacted by the SUN attributed the rise to hopeful harvest and livestock prospects, local population growth, and renewed confidence in the national economy.

They also expressed optimism that the remainder of 1975 will present encouraging economic developments.

Georgetown banks recorded a combined increase of $1,755,042.

"I don't know where all this money came from," said First National's president W. R. Eanes, "but the outlook is good, especially for the last quarter of the year." First National's deposits jumped by $443,546 since last June.

Fred Knauth, vice-president of Citizens State in Georgetown, attributed his bank's $1,311,496 rise in deposits to "people saving more, and feeling better about the overall economic situation."

Burness Beck of the Union State Bank in Florence concurred in that opinion. "The economy is based on how people feel, and I think they're becoming more confident in the nation's economy," he said.

Union State enjoyed a deposits increase of $191,083 from June '74 to June '75.

"We've had steady growth in this area from both Austin and Killeen-Ft. Hood, which helps," Beck explained, "and of course a lot of grain has done well. I think we'll continue on this same trend for the rest of the year."

At Jarrell, president Cora Sexton of the First State Bank, confirmed that "things are in a little better shape around here."

First State's deposits rose by $42,887, and Miss

Sexton remarked, "We're looking for a good maize crop, more people are coming into the area, and we hope things will continue to get better through the year."

Six area banks recorded deposits increases of over a million dollars.

Farmers State of Round Rock had the largest increase, with a rise of $3,032,985.

The First-Taylor National was right behind with a leap of $2,234,771.

Bank of the Hills in Cedar Park recorded $2,234,771 more for the third largest deposits increase in the county.

City National of Taylor was fourth with an increase of $1,782,384.

Citizens State of Georgetown took in $1,311,496 more during the year, and Granger National had a $1,084,086 increase.

Taylor's two banks recorded the largest combined deposits leap in the county, a whopping $4,417,679.

Round Rock was next with $3,136,560 more.

Georgetown's $1,755,042 increase was next, and Granger had a combined deposits increase of $1,240,028.

Figures for all banks follow:

THERE WILL BE A BUMPER MAIZE CROP THIS YEAR — that is the prediction of Williamson County farmer Norman Domel who farms and ranches four miles east of Georgetown. Domel said with all the rain, he believes he will make more maize this year than he ever has.

Commissioners to set taxes

Williamson County Commissioners will set tax rates for the coming year at Monday's court meeting. The meeting will begin at 10 a. m. in the auditor's office, first floor of the county courthouse.

A decrease in tax rate has been predicted by Commissioners Wesley Foust and Wesley Johnson to offset the 25 percent increase in property valuations that the commissioners approved last December.

Foust said he will recommend that the rate be set at 80 cents per $100 valuation instead of 90 cents as it is now.

Other agenda items include "Consider Mass Gathering Act" as pertaining to the Willie Nelson 4th of July picnic held in Liberty Hill.

TAX EXEMPTIONS AVAILABLE

Homestead tax exemptions are still available to Georgetown residents 65 years old and over. Robert Caluette, Georgetown tax assessor-collector, says those residents may receive the exemption by registering at his office in the Municipal Building, 103 W. Seventh. The exemption allows those who qualify to deduct $3,000 from the assessed value of their taxable property.

the passing glance

By Don Scarbrough

Frequently, as I pass the big old two story home of Mrs. A. E. McLean at 809 East University, I remember wistfully of that all-too-short span in my life when Clara and I joined about eighteen others at Mrs. McLean's boarding table!

NEVER BEFORE nor since have I consistently enjoyed lunch as then. Seated around the massive table was an interesting group, including the late Professor Luther J. Waggoner and Pearl A. Neas, along with business and professional people of the community. It was always a fine occasion for us, sort of a banquet and party all rolled into one. And the food! Five or six choices of meats, several vegetables, wonderful rolls or biscuits, a choice of desserts and drinks, all on the table family style. And that's what we were for a brief period, just one big happy family, eating wonderfully well and being entertained by Prof. Waggoner, who was a truly unique character.

Our period of dining with Mrs. McLean must have been around 1955. The whole thing finally got a little too much for this great little lady and she gave it up, to the genuine sorrow of all her regulars. The "board and room" custom, once prevalent here and elsewhere in the U.S., is gone forever, vanished with the ability to employ willing, intelligent and low-priced kitchen help.

IT WAS IN ABOUT this same time frame that the SUN employed a bright and pretty young journalism graduate, Helen Moss. Helen was our star. She handled a camera, any kind of story, picked up ads and made friends. She was also the object of several young men's affections, one being Edgar Martin Miles, the only local. Of course, we were all for Edgar Martin, expecting that should they wed they would settle here and Helen would be our reporter ever-after!

Edgar Martin ran the best campaign. He wooed and won her and in just a few weeks they were up and gone, which proves that editorial planning isn't worth much. We lost this fine couple but we stayed in touch. Helen went to work for the San Antonio Light and Edgar Martin Please turn to Page 10

Bumper crop expected

Maize harvest is beginning in Williamson County, principally in the very easternmost community of Coupland.

In the next few weeks the little golden nuggets of grain will be filling the hoppers of combines as fast as the machines can take them, in what local farmers predict will be the best maize crop in their recollection.

A spring hail storm damaged some of the crops through the Jarrell-Schwertner area, but most of them have come through with reasonably little setback. In other parts of the county the grain is getting redder with each sunshiny day.

A little problem in some of the fields is the variance in color of the heads of maize. There may be a green head just a foot or so away from one that is almost brown enough to harvest. This may be a problem in moisture content measuring when harvest begins. This could be the result of too much moisture or hail damage.

There is more maize this year in Williamson County than in many years. This is because the farmers were disappointed in cotton prices last year — too low to sell. Many are still holding last year's cotton, waiting for a decent price.

Norman Domel, who modestly agreed to be photographed by the SUN photographer Friday morning, said this is the first year in his life of farming that he has not planted cotton.

This is really a MAIZE year.

Week's news in a nutshell

Willie Nelson left a lot of satisfied customers after his Fourth of July Picnic near Liberty Hill last weekend, but County Commissioner Wesley Foust wasn't one of them. Foust filed suit Wednesday against Nelson in County Court Wednesday for alleged violations of a Texas law prohibiting more than 5,000 persons to gather for more than 12 hours in a single place.

The satisfied customers also left behind a lot of litter, according to law enforcement officers, and opinion around the county was divided about the picnic's merits or lack of same.

Noting that the gathering generated no crime or violence, one Liberty Hill resident quipped, "What city of 70,000 has that kind of record?"

Sgt. Fred Hurst of the Highway Patrol, however, said "The town of Liberty Hill was mistreated." He charged that the picnickers littered local streets and yards.

Sorghum acreage in Williamson County is up, but prices for this year's crop are estimated to be down.

According to Department of Agriculture figures, county farmers have planted as much as 20 thousand more acres in sorghum this year than last, but feed merchants in Georgetown and Taylor predict each hundred weight will bring only $3.50 to $3.85.

Last year's crop brought $4.25 to $5 per hundred weight.

National Housing Industries (NHI) representatives complained to the SUN Monday that "the City of Georgetown is not willing to sit down and negotiate with us."

The City has moved to annex NHI's planned Sherrill Oaks subdivision south of town, and the developers say this will kill their project. The NHI men also say they have been trying to talk with city officials for three months.

Liberty Hill school trustees kicked around preliminary budget figures of half a million dollars this week, and Leander trustees approved almost $2.3 million for next year. Jarrell trustees set a public hearing on next year's budget for August 4.

Charges filed

Williamson County Commissioner Wesley Foust filed three complaints in County Court Wednesday morning (after Sun's deadline for Thursday paper) charging Willie Nelson with violations of the Texas Mass Gathering Act. Also named in the complaints is Crackerjack

Productions, Inc., a corporation owned solely by Nelson, and G and M Catering of Austin, the company which had a permit to sell beer at the picnic site.

The complaints charge that the defendants "unlawfully, intentionally and knowingly provided a mass gathering without first obtaining a permit." The Act provides that a permit be obtained from the county judge presiding in the county where such gathering is to be held.

NELSON and his promoters did not obtain a permit before the "Willie Nelson 3rd Annual 4th of July Picnic" held in Liberty Hill. Promoters contended that 5000 persons would not be in attendance at the picnic for more than 12 consecutive hours.

Foust said that the picnic, which drew more than 70,000 spectators violated the Act by more than 18 hours. He said that more than 5000 persons had arrived for the picnic by midnight July 3 and that there were still 5000 on the grounds by 6 a. m. July 5.

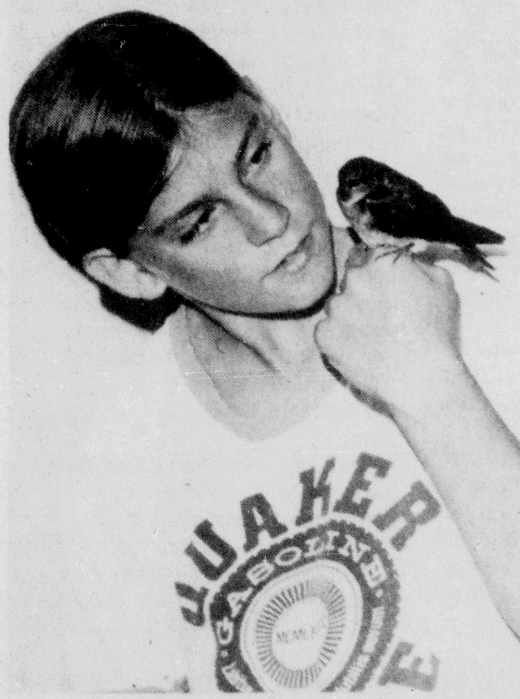

PROVISIONS OF THE ACT only apply if more than 5000 persons are present at a gathering for more than 12 consecutive hours. Violators may be fined up to $1000 and/or 90 days in jail. Violations are misdemeanors.

COUNTY ATTORNEY Norman Manning, who will prosecute the case, said he will try to get the case ready for docket call on July 23. That is an appearance date during which pre-trial hearings are usually set.

No other cases have been prosecuted under the Act which was passed by Texas legislators in 1972, according to Manning. He said he is giving the case a lot of his time.

BOND OF $1500 was posted for Nelson by his booking agent Paul English. Relatives of Nelson said Friday that the nationally known singer/song writer is in Hawaii and is not expected to return before August.

During meetings with county officials before the picnic, promoters representing Nelson assured county officials that the entertainment would not last more than 12 hours and that 5000 people would not be present for an extended time. At those meetings, promoters estimated a crowds of approximately 10,000 persons.

MEET MY MARTIN — Debra DeLoe, 11, introduces her friend Alfie, a very social Martin. She and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al DeLoe, found the baby bird a few weeks ago when it apparently fell from a roost in the side yard of their Weir home. Alfie was less than a month old then, and Debra says she has spent about four hours each day since gathering two or more cans full of grasshoppers for the bird, who "lets you know when he's hungry." Debra, a three-year resident of Weir who will be a sixth grader at Northside Middle School this year, named the little fella after her father. Looks like she's got a lifetime friend.

Applying the law

We are getting pretty close to a standing ovation for Comptroller Bob Bullock.

Bullock, who has been accused of shooting from the hip, has his people conducting raids on business firms throughout the state, mostly in Dallas, Houston and San Antonio, who have refused to pay the sales tax.

"THIS IS NOT YOUR MONEY," Bullock told a Dallas operator. "You have been taking your customers' nickels, dimes and quarters for the past five years and refusing to turn it in for the benefit of your state and your city." Bullock estimates that $60 million has been lost to the state in the last decade due to slovenly collection procedures.

About a dozen raids have been made. Some business firms have been pad-locked. This may be all that is needed as many formerly recalcitrant firms are seeing the picture and suddenly sending in their taxes or making arrangements to do so.

All of us may not like the sales tax, or any tax for that matter. Like it or not, however, it's here and it places an obligation on all of us, the customer to yield up his extra five per cent and the merchant to send that money, which does not belong to him, on in to the comptroller's office.

Unfortunately, in past years the comptroller has been lax in collecting this money. It's a different story now. Bob Bullock, the guy who calls them like he sees 'em, is in charge and he has his department enthusiastically applying the law equally to all the firms in Texas who operate with a sales tax permit. This is the way it should be.

Bullock, incidentally, has ruffled a lot of legislative feathers by stating that the new State Constitution, if adopted by the voters late this year, will raise the cost of state government a billion dollars. This statement, unless modified or carefully explained, could make it difficult for the document to win voter approval. There is the chance, too, that Governor Briscoe will find fault with the new version and if he does, and Bullock agrees, there won't be a new State Constitution, many believe. At least, not this year.

TOWER ALKS

by U.S. Senator for Texas
JOHN TOWER

WASHINGTON—A partisan power play may deprive the citizens of a sovereign state of the right to choose who will represent them in the U.S. Senate.

The Democratic majority in the Senate is practicing the "old politics" in the dispute over who won the election for the U.S. Senate in New Hampshire last year.

The election last November between Republican Louis Wyman and Democrat John Durkin plainly is too close to call, even though the New Hampshire Ballot Law Commission, whose authority has been upheld by the federal courts, has awarded the victory to Republican Wyman by a margin of two votes.

Clearly, the dispute should be sent back to New Hampshire for another election. This is what the people of New Hampshire want. This is what the duly certified winner of the election, Sen. Wyman, has advocated. But the Democratic majority intends to force the Senate to turn its back on pressing national business for the rest of the month to itself to decide the outcome of the Wyman-Durkin race.

The majority is setting a precedent that could haunt the Senate for many years. Never before has the Senate interfered in an election in which there has been no allegation of fraud.

Democrat Durkin has not alleged that the election was stolen from him; he has merely asked the Senate, with its top-heavy Democratic majority, to overturn the judgment of the voters and seat him instead of the duly certified winner.

The actions of the Senate Rules Committee in the Wyman-Durkin dispute raise many questions about the intentions of the majority.

The kindest description of the Rules Committee behavior is that it has not been even-handed. It has frequently made judgments contrary to New Hampshire law. It has ruled one way on some disputed ballots, and the exact opposite way on similar ballots. It has examined virtually all of the ballots protested by one candidate, and hardly any of the ballots protested by the other. The only consistency in the committee's actions is that they have all tended to favor Democrat Durkin.

A flagrant example of the all-too-common partisanship of the Rules Committee was the acceptance of two straight Democratic ballots cast by the same woman. She'd cast the other for her dying sister, she said.

This partisanship has changed the issue from the narrow question of whether Wyman or Durkin will be seated to a matter of grave concern for all Americans. Are we to establish a precedent whereby the loser of a close election, if his party is in a majority in the Senate, will go to the Senate to have the verdict of the voters overturned? I fear for democracy if this is so.

Toward a definition of poetry

At the cost of considerable philosophic confusion, men persist in returning to the conviction that poetry is a mode of perception, a dream more exalted and comprehensible than discursive logic. Again and again we discover that poetry communicates with us, as does the dance, through a sequence of symbolic gestures, the meaning of which is generally inseparable from a formal pattern. It is from the very balance of rhythmic cognition, of elevated reality, that great poetry is born.

But whatever the case, poetry is always the art of rhythmic elation by words with a recurrent pattern; it is musical expression of our spirit. Such an expression can be achieved only through the mathematically sensitive use of language, through the existence of exactly quantified transrational and incantatory elements within the poem.

In its final perspective, poetry remains sacred geometry. The adjective "sacred" puts before us the question: is not the making of a poem also the saying of a prayer?

OIL BOOM IN ALABAMA

Here's a switch: New York City is bankrupt and Alabama is getting rich.

THEY'VE STRUCK OIL in deep Dixie!

I grew up in Tulsa during Oklahoma's oil boom days, and while we didn't share in the bonanza we did share in the excitement.

I shared it again during recent visits to Alabama.

I've often wondered why Houston didn't happen in Mobile, Ala., has the same climate and the same port potential, yet that city tended to go fishing while Houston got busy and got rich.

Many Mobile folks will tell you that theirs is another kind of riches which might be diminished by too much prosperity. Anyway, we're about to find out.

Not 20 miles north of Mobile somebody brought in an oil well. In the months since a dozen other wells thereabouts have made southwest Alabama the hottest spot for wildcatters in this hemisphere.

Alabama State Geologist Philip LaMoreaux says, "A lot of people are getting ready to make a lot of money."

"No doubt about it," he says, "this is a major new field — or fields."

No fever is more highly contagious than oil fever. Anybody who hears about anybody buying a lease for $25 an acre and selling it for $3,000 an acre is ready to bid $4,000.

A HUNDRED MILLION dollars has been paid out for mineral rights thereabouts in the past 24 months.

If that sounds like a lot of money, try this in your computer: Just one of these new wells promises long-term production in excess of 4,000 barrels a day.

At present prices — $11 a barrel — that's $44,000 each day each well!

Letters from readers are welcome. All are subject to condensation. We assume no responsibility for statements made.

Helen Chesley of Liberty Hill called to say that the SUN presented both sides of the story. She had complained about other papers making the people of Liberty Hill appear bad. She said that what trash that has been picked up has been picked up by Liberty Hill residents although she admitted that Nelson promoters may have hired the local boy's club to help pick up trash.

Dear Editor:

I must respond to the article in July 10 issue quoting our poor over worked law officers. Even allowing for traditional misquoting and reportorial errors one must still assume some accuracy in the quotes. It wouldn't do to call Sgt. Hurst a liar but I will say that the quotes attributed to him are so exaggerated as to inhibit acceptance of their veracity.

As for 75 and 80 year old people picking up trash, I certainly question the truth of that. If they were picking up anything it was money. I was up and down the streets several times Saturday and Sunday and saw no such people. The money I am talking about was in the salvagable bottles, aluminum cans, blankets, sleeping bags etc. abandoned by the visitors. One man came to my place with two

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Panama Canal: Trouble Ahead

WASHINGTON -- State Department officials warn privately that the Panama Canal soon may be sabotaged, and anti-American riots can be expected in the streets of Panama.

For more than a decade, the State Department has been negotiating to return the sovereignty over the Canal back to Panama. This was the year it was supposed to happen.

But right-wingers in the Pentagon and on Capitol Hill have been fighting the idea for all they're worth. One resolution sponsored by South Carolina's Sen. Strom Thurmond called for "the undiluted sovereignty of the United States" over the Panama Canal.

And just a few days ago, the House voted overwhelmingly to deny funds for negotiating a new Panama Canal treaty.

This strong opposition has forced Secretary of State Henry Kissinger to back off the issue. As one insider put it, "Henry is better than a buzzard when it comes to smelling death. He knows the Canal treaty is a dead issue."

But in Panama it is a live issue. There will be sabotage attacks on the Canal and trouble in the streets, sure as shooting, if a new treaty isn't negotiated this year.

Fuel Flim-Flam: The oil barons gave the nation a Fourth of July present: higher gas prices. The price boosts came just in time to coincide with the heavy-driving season.

Of course, the oilmen claim this was all a coincidence. Higher costs, they say, forced them to raise prices.

But the truth is that the oil companies have learned from the Arabs. As gas became plentiful and prices began dropping, the major oil firms cut back their refinery production.

Rather than let their profits be determined by the whims of the free market, they merely produced less gasoline. Not enough to create a shortage, but just enough to send prices up before the big vacation season.

The arrogance of their timing, however, has caused new rumbles on Capitol Hill. There is talk in congressional corridors again of nationalizing the oil industry. A growing number of congressmen believe that the nation's energy needs are too vital to entrust to the care of the greedy oil tycoons.

Veto-Prone Congress: The Watergate scandal brought a major housecleaning on Capitol Hill. The political breezes blew in a number of reformers, who promptly set about making improvements.

The overwhelming Democratic majority was expected to ride roughshod over President Ford. Almost everyone, including the President himself, predicted that Congress would be veto-proof.

Instead Congress has been veto-prone. The former Congress overrode four out of eight Ford vetoes. But the new Congress hasn't been able to override a single veto.

For example, have been in session 17 days longer than a year ago, but they have passed 11 fewer bills. Most of the key measures are still awaiting congressional action.

Philippine Problems: President Ferdinand Marcos of the Philippines is having his troubles. We recently reported, for example, that he offered a $50,000 bribe to a former Filipino official not to testify before Congress about corruption in the Philippines. Now he stands a chance of losing a rare opportunity to enhance his image. Here are the details:

The heavyweight champion of the world, Muhammad Ali, is scheduled to fight his preeminent challenger, Joe Frazier, in the Philippines this fall. As Ali put it, in his inimitable fashion, there will be a "thrilla in Manila."

Our sources report, however, that a group of Philippine-American Muslims have cabled Ali, urging him not to fight in

Manila. Marcos would use the favorable publicity, they said, "to bolster his tyranny."

Ali is a deeply religious Muslim himself. There is a good chance, say our sources, that he will honor the request of his brethren.

Lot of Bull: Defense Secretary James Schlesinger recently displayed some satellite pictures taken over the African country of Somalia, and pointed out some large structures which he said were Russian missile bases. In response, the Soviets claimed the buildings were actually a meat-packing plant. Schlesinger, with a sly smile, declared that the Russians must be processing a steer "the size of Paul Bunyan's ox."

Fuddle Factory: Freshman Sen. Pat Leahy wants to create a select committee that will systematically abolish unnecessary government bodies. The Vermont Democrat points out that in the last 15 years, 236 federal agencies, boards and commissions have been established, but only 21 have been shut down.

Phantom Speeches: Rep. Bill Steiger, R-Wis., is trying to make an honest document out of the Congressional Record. For years, congressmen have been able to reprint undelivered speeches in the Record, just as if they had held their colleagues entranced.

Steiger, however, has persuaded 52 of his colleagues to support a resolution which would provide that nondelivered speeches appear in a different type face.

Bob Smith gets the owner's one-eighth interest in three wells on his property. He'll take in $35,000 a month.

Konrad Mims owns 82 acres of woodland for which he's been offered a hundred times what he paid five years ago. He says he'll wait for a better price.

Around the edges of any such discovery are the hot-shot promoters who seek money from doctors and dentists, lawyers and merchants and widows — and churches.

The promoter, for "putting the deal together," keeps a percentage for himself.

Sometimes these independent wildcatters make themselves and their investors rich. Usually, however, the advantage is with the biggies who can bid higher and lease more and hold on longer.

UNION AND GETTY are already on the scene, and other oil company giants are on the way.

How far this oil field — or fields — will extend nobody can know for sure until they punch a lot more holes in the ground.

Already, however, it's certain that Alabama will be a major petroleum producing state in the 1980s. One of our poorest states will become one of our richest.

And Mobile may well become another Houston — for better or worse.

Austin Notebook

AUSTIN — Texas Republicans are gleeful at their prospects for the 1976 elections.

With the help of Federal court decisions, legislative actions and new Republican leadership in the person of Rep. Ray Hutchison of Dallas, a savvy lawyer who did a lot to make legislative Democrats go wrong in the recent legislative session, they have high hopes of making real progress in picking up more clout in 1976.

What has the Republican liberty bells ringing is the fact that, for the first time, there will be no big league Democrats running for statewide office next year. The voters said "yes" to four-year terms for most statewide officials. So there will be a candidate for the Railroad Commission, candidates for the high courts, and no one else to bring out the votes in November.

This can mean a real drop-off in total voter turnout. Sen. John Tower will be on the Republican ballot for another term in the U. S. Senate. There seems likely to be a fairly lackadaisical race for president. And Republicans have always felt that they can get their troops to the polls and win those low turn-out elections.

Democratic state officials, who got their races set in the non-presidential years, thought they were cutting up a fat political pig by having their elections in "off years."

But it may turn out, Republican strategists feel, that while Gov. Dolph Briscoe and others are enjoying a free ride in 1976, they will be able to bite off a good chunk of the 150 House seats and 15 Senate seats which will be up that year.

The new single-member districts in nine major counties are the first targets.

The director of research for the Republican general headquarters feels they can pick up nine seats in those nine counties. They feel they can get three or four in Tarrant County, now all Democratic. Then they expect to get one in El Paso, one in Travis, one in Lubbock and perhaps one more in El Paso and one in Nueces. The Nueces district they hope to win is that in which Rep. DeWitt Hale, a veteran Democrat, would be living. If Hale runs again, the Republicans won't bother. If he tries for something else like a judgeship, they believe that will become a GOP district.

Added to the 16 Republican House seats they now hold, that would make 25, and the goal is to have 40 of the 150 by 1980.

"With no governor's race to drain off campaign money and to bring in Democratic votes, it is a unique opportunity to concentrate on legislative races," one top Republican explained. And that is just what they intend to do.

With even 25 House members, and the Democrats in the House split into two or three factions, an important impact can be had on legislation. Republicans feel. In fact, with only 16, they were able to have an important impact during the 1975 session. An unproportionally high percentage of the amendments from committees and from floor action came from Republicans. And many of those amendments helped destroy Democratic goals as voiced by Gov. Briscoe or Speaker Bill Clayton. They also caused rifts in Democratic ranks.

Issues? The Republican strategists think they have them by the dozen.

"Briscoe promised no new taxes," one said. "And now you have his own Democratic Comptroller, Bob Bullock, predicting that a billion-dollar tax bill will be needed in 1977. Also, the legislative action will force new school tax increases on local property, in addition to those forced in 1974 by the failure of the Democrats to act on school finance matters in 1973."

Republicans helped this year to force that situation, because they were fairly well organized and had staffs working up amendments to create issues for the 1976 elections.

Republicans now have eight county judges, picking up in 1974 those offices in the two biggest counties — Harris and Dallas. They have 19 county commissioners, two district judges, two members of the State Board of Education, one sheriff (Elwood Hill of Odessa), three tax assessor-collectors and one county surveyor, among others.

So, with 3 of the 31 senators now, Republicans will be looking for "soft" spots to increase their upper house strength. Sens. Ike Harris of Dallas and Walter Mengden of Houston will be up for re-election. Republicans are looking closely for others, including those in the districts of Sens. Ron Clower of Garland, Bill Braecklein of Dallas, Glenn Kothmann of San Antonio, Jack Ogg of Houston, and Max Sherman of Amarillo, to see if they can't give their lone holdover, Sen. Betty Andujar of Fort Worth, some more support.

Linda Kotrla at Farm Bureau Seminar at Baylor

Linda Kotrla, a junior at Georgetown High School, will be among some 500 students throughout the state attending the Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar on the campus of Baylor University July 14 to July 18. Linda will be a guest representing the Future Homemakers of America Association. Other guests from the Texas Future Farmers and 4-H Club Council are also being invited to attend this thirteenth annual Seminar sponsored by the Farm Bureau.

The Seminar will be an intensive course in citizenship, our American heritage, the proper role of government and the threat of communism. It is designed to complement the formal education of these young folks and to make it more meaningful to them. Several lectures will concern firsthand accounts of people who have dealt directly with communist intrigue which, naturally, will have great appeal to these students. However, other phases of the Seminar dealing with the danger of America losing its system of government because of apathy and misunderstanding of issues, are equally, if not more important.

This comprehensive program should prove invaluable to our future citizens, giving them a better idea of what has made this country great and what must be done to preserve it.

The students attending this Seminar have been selected to attend because of their leadership ability and high moral character. Linda is presently the president of the Georgetown FHA chapter, and in past years, she has served as fourth vice-president as well as parliamentarian of her local chapter. Last year she was the Area VII fifth vice-president, thus making her able to attend the National FHA Convention at Chicago, Illinois. Linda also participates in the girls' athletic programs of basketball and tennis. This 5'8" brown eyed brunette boasts being the secretary of the newly organized Junior Historian Club. Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kotrla of Rt. 1, Georgetown.

Several truck loads of aluminum cans passed by. I myself redeemed over ten dollars worth of bottles. Proportionately there was no more trash on the streets than on a normal weekend. I'm here every day. How often does Hurst come to Liberty Hill? I contend this is the first time he and his men have really had to work since being in this county. If traffic was snarled this is a reflection on his men's ability to perform under pressure.

I do expect to be harassed because of this letter. I already witnessed Officer Wade intimidating some people. When I said in his presence I would gladly testify to his statements he changed his attitude. So you can locate me Sgt. Hurst, I run the Corner Carry Out and the Corner Washateria. The only downtown businesses open during the show and providing the only free public toilet and a water hose for people to wash off the mud.

In closing, let me say that if the lawmen do not like the job they were hired or elected to do let them resign. If not, then let's be scrupulously fair in our public statements. (Note the difference between Hurst's statements and the Sheriff's department). Let's not try to curry favor with disgruntled politicians whose pride is hurt for being so wrong. Remember we are the ones who pay your salaries and I'll compare my taxes with yours any day of the week.

Editor's Note: There is no doubt that some of the Liberty Hill business people, and others, profited by the Nelson event. Some Georgetown business firms also took in more money. On the other hand, quite a few of the residents of Liberty Hill were deeply shocked by the proceedings, while others either enjoyed it or shrugged it off. Let's hope the police, even though they let 70,000 people overwhelm them for a period on narrow, country roads, don't resign their jobs. I wouldn't.

Man's triumph over a Menace to Life...

Sharks have always been man's enemies in the sea. They are a danger to the shipwrecked, and occasionally threaten the lives of swimmers along our coastal waters. Sharks are only one of the many dangers that man faces every day. The world, today, is in a turmoil and we must be alert and on guard for the enemies' moves. Now is the time to trust in the Lord and to seek His help.

"Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. O my God, I trust in thee; let me not be ashamed, let not mine enemies triumph over me."

Psalm 25, 1-2

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long prosper and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

County spends 1/3 on roads, bridges

Williamson County Commissioners spent 37 percent of federal revenue sharing funds received during Entitlement Period 5 (July 1, 1973, to June 30, 1975) for "public transportation."

According to a report prepared by County Auditor Ben Kurio, capital expenditures for the four commissioners precincts and a commissioners communication system cost $72,997. Another $31,834 was spent on operating maintenance for the road and bridge precincts.

A balance of $74,911.23 remained in the Revenue Sharing funds at the end of the entitlement period. Interest drawn on the funds totaled $4,242.07.

The largest portion of the funds — $90,186 — were spent in the category of Health. Of that amount $58,353 went to purchase ambulances and equipment. Another $5,609 was for ambulance services at $5 per call before the county am-balance service was in operation. An expenditure of $1222 was made for county ambulance service supplies.

Twenty thousand dollars was spent for the Williamson County Health Department (1975 budget) and $5000 for the health department (1974 budget).

Under "public safety" $18,750

was spent for rural fire appropriations, $28,150 for sheriff's office salaries, $348 for freezer for jail, and $995 as radio for sheriff's office.

Capital expenditures under "multipurpose and general government" were $21,932 toward the new Williamson County office building at 103 W. Third St. Others were $2916 for electric typewriters, $1753 for office desks, $2046 for secretarial desks, $2139 for chairs for courthouse, $2697 for document files, $488 for filing cabinets, $312 for range and exhaust fan for jail, $181 for water cooler for courthouse and $1615 for Eastman Kodak Magna Print Reader.

Fewer Americans going abroad

The recession and higher prices caused the biggest drop in foreign travel by Americans last year since the initiation of mass jet travel, Commerce Department figures indicate.

About 6.4 million Americans visited other countries last year, compared with 6.8 million in 1973, the department says. The drop was the largest since World War II, but the $9.2 billion they spent was a record high, the figures show.

The department blamed higher air fares, inflated prices abroad, and deterioration of the dollar in relation to foreign currencies for the 8.2 percent increase in spending.

Western Europe remained the most popular destination for U.S. travelers, but both the number of persons visiting there and the amount of money they spend dropped last year.

At the same time, spending in countries closer to home was up at a more rapid pace than the previous year.

For instance, spending in the West Indies and Central America registered a 20.2 percent increase.

"The Sunshine Boys" stars Gale Gordon at C.D. Playhouse

Gale Gordon stars in "The Sunshine Boys" which opened July 8 at the Country Dinner Playhouse.

Gordon will be remembered as Mr. Mooney, the banker boss of Lucille Ball, on "The Lucy Show" and before that as Osgood Conklin, the pompous principal of Eve Arden on "Our Miss Brooks", as well as many movies.

In "The Sunshine Boys" the 69 year old veteran actor plays an out-of-work vaudeville actor who takes his audience on a nostalgic journey as he is reunited with his old partner and they go into rehearsal for their most famous skit to be played on a historical show.

He is ably assisted by a cast of five.

The Heymakers, the Country Dinner Playhouse group of singing and dancing waiters and waitresses, give one of their better fresh and entertaining preshow performances.

This new show will run through August 10.

JAIME JUDITH GRAY
— Director of Student Activities at Southwestern

Southwestern names new activities director

Jaime Judith Gray has taken the post of Director of Student Activities at Southwestern University at Georgetown. In her second week on the job where she has been attacking the paperwork and scheduling of her office, she says she is looking forward to the fall semester.

"I can hardly wait for the students to get here so we can begin working together for a full program," she says with enthusiasm.

"After all, this is the student's Union, and from what I've heard they have had some outstanding programs and activities these past few years."

Already planned is an artists' series with such varied entertainment as a jazz combo, a Shakespeare production, and dual pianists. Other programs include a series of Alfred

Hitchcock films and the Free University that has proved popular in years past.

Ms. Gray will be filling the post vacated by Truitt Gilbreath who has left to continue work on his graduate degree. Ms. Gray will also have some additional duties. She will have the responsibilities of the Student Union, Student Government advising, the university calendar, and she will be the general advisor for student organizations.

"Everyone has been very helpful and friendly since I've been here," Ms. Gray says, adding that she was already somewhat familiar with the campus. She used to be a cheerleader at St. Mary's University in San Antonio, and she led St. Mary's fans to the Georgetown campus several times for Big State Conference basketball encounters. She received a B.A. from St. Mary's in drama with a minor in English.

This past year Ms. Gray served an internship in admissions and placement at the University of Iowa, where she earned an M.A. in college student personnel services. She also worked in the office of the Equal Opportunity Programs and in the office of Housing Services at the same school.

The funds will help to expand the offerings of the Cody Memorial Library at Southwestern, which already has a widely acclaimed rare books section along with extensive resource materials and microfilm periodical library and microfilm readers.

Golf and tennis players get letters

Golfers and tennis players who helped lead Southwestern University at Georgetown to runners-up positions in both sports in the Big State Conference have been awarded letters, according to Dr. T. L. Kassen, athletic director.

Kassen, who coached the tennis team to within one point of the championship, named Jay Elder of LaMarque, Cliff Leonard of Anniston, Spencer Cluff of Dallas, and David McNitzky of Corpus Christi as lettermen. Elder and Leonard were both juniors last season while Cluff was a sophomore and McNitzky a freshman.

Coach Bill Merritt of the golf team named as lettermen Jack Lyons of Mercedes, Mark Coward of Hutto, Smith Tonahill of Jasper, Mark Kissell of Bartlesville, Okla., and Les Russell of Ozona. Only Lyons graduated this past season. Coward, who was the NAIA regional medalist, was a junior last season while Tonahill was a sophomore and Kissell and Russell both freshmen.

Local girl scout to Wyoming camp

Patricia Thomas, daughter of Mrs. Etoy Thomas of Georgetown, has been chosen to represent Georgetown Senior Girl Scout Troop 298 at the Girl Scout National Center West in Wyoming from July 16-25, according to her leader, Mrs. R. B. Motheral.

Local sponsors for Patricia's trip are the Georgetown Girl Scouts and the Georgetown Rotary Club.

Sixteen girls and four adults from families in Austin and Georgetown will have the opportunity this summer to visit an archeological dig, fish for trout in a mountain stream, cook meals over a charcoal stove, go horseback riding, or do whatever they want to do, at Girl Scout National Center West in Wyoming. The girls, from several different neighborhoods and ethnic backgrounds, have already begun working together to prepare for the trip, since the preliminary camp-outs, cook-outs, money-earning activities - and, especially, getting to know each other - are an important part of the total experience.

This "Wyoming Trek" is made possible by the Lone Star Girl Scout Council with the aid of a grant from the DeWitt Wallace Reader's Digest Scholarship Fund and contributions from the girls' own communities. Whether a girl is, or ever was, a Girl Scout was not a criterion in the selection process. The DeWitt Wallace grant, approximately $5500, will cover all expenses for transportation, food, lodging, medical examinations and insurance, and activity fees during the two-week trip. The Lone Star Council provides all group camping and cooking equipment and handles administration of the project. The girls, with the help of community donations and fund-raising efforts such as car washes and bake sales, raised about $150 each to supplement their own clothing needs, personal items, and personal camping gear, as well as to reimburse the Council for money advanced for food and incidental expenses of the planning and practice sessions.

These 13- to 16-year-olds have accepted the challenge not just of becoming good campers, but of understanding themselves and others in the mini-society of the newly-formed Wyoming Trek patrols.

Bicentennial Bits

by Barry Trask

Legends have a way of swallowing people, man and hero merge to become myth. One of our legendary heroes was created 88 years after the celebrated event—45 years after the man died.

In 1863, the pressures of Civil War created a demand for popular heroes. Henry W. Longfellow wrote a stirring poem, "The Ride of Paul Revere"; a man on a horse galloping through the black night, crying the alarm in quiet villages, and hurrying on a warning voice in the dark.

Without Longfellow's poetic portrayal, Paul Revere would have remained as unheralded as his friend Billy Dawes, who also rode from Boston on the same night for the same purpose.

In 1775, Paul Revere was 40 years old; in those days past middle age. He was bold, steady, vigorous, and sensible. While not one of the well-educated revolutionary elite, he was a valuable ally; a man of action.

Revere had joined the lively "Sons of Liberty". He had taken an active part in the "Tea Party", and the "Boston Massacre". Of more importance were his duties as a courier for Sam Adams' "Committees of Correspondence"—a device created to pass radical information between the Colonies. Paul rode often, and one year made four round trips from Boston to Philadelphia.

Massachusetts Governor Hutchinson, a native-born Bostonian, had gone to England to report on the intransigent rebels. General Gage, British Commander, had been ordered to use his Boston-based troops against the "Patriots", whose "Minute Men" had been drilling and accumulating arms.

The impending action became obvious. On Sunday, (the lantern hanging was on Tuesday), Revere rode to Concord to warn patriots to get men and ox-carts busy hiding cannon, ammunition, sacks of bullets, and flour. On his return he stopped in Charlestown to make plans for the signal—"one if by land and two if by sea"—and to ask wealthy John Larkin to have ready his best horse, should it be needed.

On Tuesday night the troops began to move. The time had come. Joseph Warren sent for Paul Revere and "begged that I would immediately set off for Lexington, where Messrs. Hancock and Adams were, and it was thought they were the objects". Billy Dawes had already been dispatched by land.

Robert Newman, young sexton at Christ Church, climbed past the eight bells, "the golden peal", and at the highest point in the belfry briefly hung the two lights. Paul Revere met Joshua Bentley and Thomas Richardson who were ready to row him across the Charles River. With oars muffled with a petticoat, they slipped around the British frigate "Somerset", and arrived in Charlestown without a challenge.

And so Paul Revere started his ride, which really has never ended; galloping through the lonely night, hooves beating a rhythm of warning, echoing through history, folklore, and poetry—a symbol revered by young hearts of all ages.

School of Missions draws Methodist women

Methodist women from all over Texas will be taking part in the School of Christian Missions being held at Southwestern University at Georgetown July 11-16.

The group opened Friday with a meeting of the school committee at 3 p.m. and another meeting following dinner for the faculty and the school committee. A full agenda has been planned for the School of Christian Missions, including these programs:

teachers Mrs. Inez Christenberry, chairperson of the Leadership Development Team of the South Central Jurisdiction Core Planning Group in Louisiana; and Mrs. Cecil Matthews, a member of the United Methodist Board of Global Ministries.

for the The Women's Division, New York.

—"Tour of Wesleyan Homes," a trip to the Wesleyan Home for retired persons operated by the Central Texas Conference of United Methodists.

—"Group Dynamics", an attempt to discover the resources of a group and the bank of talent that is in any group.

—"We Can Do It," how to involve the local church and individuals in mission. The leader is Myong Gul Son of Korea.

—"Women and the Biblical Perspective," a look at the theological doctrines of God, Christ, Man, and Salvation through woman's eyes.

—"Time's a Wastin'," a discussion of some practical and creative ways to use time to accomplish the important tasks and have time left for the things one would like to do.

—"Bishop's Call to Peace and Self-Development," an exploration of some of the causes of war, poverty, and hunger, and the meanings of peace and self-development.

—"Creative Worship," involvement and experience are the two key words which describe how participants will worship creatively on the subject of an important world issue.

—"Doctrinal Standards of the United Methodist Church," an overview of the doctrines and doctrinal standards of the United Methodist Church.

Young veterans charm theatre first nighters in 'Hansel and Gretel'

The Sunday SUN
Page 7

Georgetown, Texas
Sunday, July 13, 1975

The children of Georgetown took over the theater Friday with their opening night production of "Hansel and Gretel," a play by Madge Miller based upon the classic tale. The production continues today with a 2:00 p.m. matinee, next Friday night at 8:00 p.m. and special matinee performances next Saturday and Sunday at 2:00 p.m. Stellar performances by cast and crew came as no surprise to anyone familiar with the already broad experiences of the young veterans of stage.

Seventh grader Kevin Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Pillo plays Hansel. He has played Wm. B. Travis in a history play, the king in "The Book That Saved the Earth," a lead part in "A Children's Holiday," and a crack-pot scientist in "Space Ship Santor Marin." He has written, directed, and played in three plays in addition to extensive staging of puppet shows.

Rachel Venable, a freshman at GHS, plays Gretel. Her experience includes parts as Peter Rabbit, Fat Lady Wobble, an Indian in GACT's "Summer Fun" and "The Littlest Angel." She also plays the flute.

Adrienne Holmans, playing the Witch, lists credits from playing a flower in the 1st grade to directing and acting in the recent GHS Drama Club production of "The Brave Little Tailor." Miss Holmans celebrated her sixteenth birthday on "Hansel and Gretel's" opening night. In addition to extensive acting experience, she is an award winning speech contestant, and collects owls. Lisa Racine, GHS freshman, portrays Katrin, the mother. Her study of expression, blocking, and pantomime has served her well in several school productions. An honor roll student, Miss Racine favors History, English, and Speech in school subjects and lists swimming, bowling, and drama as hobbies.

Janet Kegel has been an usher for GACT shows. That exposure to theater led to her playing an Indian in "Summer Fun" and her role in this production as Helga, whom she describes as a "cage person." She is fourteen, in the seventh grade, and the daughter of GACT activists Tony and Rita Kegel.

Amy Racine professes little experience in plays, but she has played an old lady in a kindergarten production and narrated a fourth grade play. An A and B student entering the 7th grade, she likes all subjects and all outdoor sports.

Eleven year old Julie Holmans reports acting, dancing, singing, and crew work in no less than thirteen productions. She says she has been an usher for so many plays she cannot remember all of them. Her current role as Trudi the cat calls upon her award winning experience in dance and sports.

Kathy Damman has a shadow called Katrina. She is in the seventh grade at Georgetown Jr. High and says that playing the First Fairy is her first acting experience. She enjoys choir, fossil rocks and shells, trampolines, and doing gymnastic things.

One of "Hansel and Gretel's" butterflies is eight year old Laurie Holmans who reports, "my cousin and I had some plays and here are some I directed: 'Pumpkin Tree' (fair), 'Monster Mash', 'Lady Lion', and I also was in 'Cinderella'. I was a mouse. I also was in a program in the 3rd grade."

The fine crew of "Hansel and Gretel" includes lighting veteran Jamie Duffy. Only eleven years old, he has already directed three plays, been in charge of lights for GACT's one act "Lemonade", and worked on sets for "An Evening of One Acts", "First Lady", "Count Dracula", and the recent melodrama production "Because their hearts were pure."

Sheri Hinesley, a seventh grader, a GJHS is props mistress. Besides experience in acting and props, she lists hobbies including making soap and loving animals.

Donna Holmans is in charge of sets and drew the cover

design for "Hansel and Gretel" programs. Her dramatic experience includes actress, puppeteer, dancer, properties, paint crew, and design. Miss Holmans is an award winning artist, and a freshman at Georgetown High School.

Nikki Lawler and Verlene Landry are directing this fine production. Photographs are courtesy of Natalie Hubbard. Choreography is under the direction of 1975 GHS graduate Lisa Landry. Also appearing in the cast are John Duffy, Jay Mason, Lori Landry, Pip Hubbard, Doug Lawler, Michelle Abbey, Kathy Dammon, De Ann Mason, and Jill Fuller.

Advance reservations are available at 863-5875. Tickets ($1.50 Adults, 75c children) will also be available at the door, 601 Austin Avenue, prior to performances—Saturday and Sunday matinees this week and next; and next Friday night.

BUTTERFLIES WHO DANCE IN A DREAM — are played by Melodee Norment, Laurie Holmans, and Kathy Mason in the Georgetown Area Community Theater production of "Hansel and Gretel" now playing at 601 Austin Avenue. This weekend and next weekend, July 11, 12, 13 — 18, 19, 20 the performances are on Friday evenings and Saturday and Sunday matinees.

August deadline for applications in Family Land Heritage Program

Families may apply for recognition in the Family Land Heritage Program until Aug. 15.

Applications must be returned to County Judge C. L. Chance or to Clara Scarbrough, chairperson of the Williamson County Historical Commission.

To qualify, families must have owned and continuously operated a farm or ranch for 100 years.

"Williamson County had ten farm and ranch families, who have owned and operated the same property within the family for at least 100 years, receive this special recognition last year, and we feel that others in the county are eligible," Mrs. Scarbrough states.

The families and property listed in the 1974 "Texas Family Land Heritage Registry," first edition, are Anderson Ranch, owned by William Brady Anderson of Round Rock; J. L. Starnes Farm, owned by Mrs. Edith Starnes Busshart of Georgetown; Stearns-Curik Pecan Orchard, owned by Joe and Iris (Stearns) Curik of Rockdale and Taylor; Mozelle Smart Huling Ranch owned by Ms. Huling of Florence; McDaniel Place owned by Mrs. Thelma Wells Lackey of Georgetown; McCormick Ranch owned by Mrs. Maude McCormick and family of Florence; McNeese Farm and Ranch owned by Mrs. Martha McNeese of Round Rock; Saul Ranch owned by John Russell Saul of Columbus; Telander Farm owned by Mrs. Alfred Telander of Round Rock and Yearwood Ranch, owned by Miss Eunice L. Yearwood, Robert S. Yearwood, Florence Y. Wray all of Georgetown and by John F. Yearwood III of Stephenville, and Dorothy Y. Mash of Dallas.

The farms and ranches already listed for 1974 are not eligible for further registry.

John C. White, commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture, describes the program: "The family Land Heritage Program is designed to honor those families who have owned and continuously operated a farm or ranch for 100 years or more. Mere ownership of the land for that period of time will not qualify owners for the Program. We are seeking to honor those farms and ranches whose history of agricultural productivity in the same family has been continuous and uninterrupted for a century or more. The families will be given a certificate in the name of the land and listed in the Family Land Heritage Registry."

To obtain application forms, Mrs. Scarbrough asks those interested to write: Texas Department of Agriculture, Family Land Heritage

Program, P. O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711. "Please don't wait to do this," she urges. "All applications must be in by August 15, and it takes a while to assemble all the needed information. If you think your family farm or ranch will qualify, do write for the application today."

Malpractice cost jumps 550 %

Malpractice insurance premiums for Georgetown Medical and Surgical Hospital have jumped to $52,000 per year, according to Ken Poteete, hospital administrator.

That jump in premium cost comes despite the fact that the local hospital has never had a malpractice suit filed against it.

Last year the premium totaled approximately $8000, Poteete said, so the increase is about 550 percent for the same coverage.

IN ADDITION to insurance for the hospital, doctors in the Georgetown Association have a premium of $25,000 (approximately $4100 each).

None of the local doctors have ever been involved in malpractice suits which have made it to court.

A recent story in TIME magazine on rising costs of malpractice suits said that very few suits have been filed against family physicians, but the million dollar settlements have always been against specialists. The article said that family physicians often make up in compassion and concern for what they lack in technical skills.

THE ADMINISTRATOR explained that the state attorney general's office is in the process of public hearings to determine if the state insurance board can freeze premium prices at the June 3 rate. If the ruling is in favor of the board's freeze then the $52,000 would be invalid.

Otherwise, Poteete said several of the doctors are considering dropping the malpractice coverage for the hospital.

When asked for his opinion, Dr. Douglas Benold said that rather than pay the $52,000, he thought malpractice insurance for the hospital should be dropped.

"IF THE HOSPITAL pays these exorbitant rates for malpractice insurance," Poteete said, "there's no question but what the patient would ultimately pay for this with higher rates. Conceivably, we could have to raise our room charges as much as four or five dollars per day."

Poteete said, "We try to curtail costs and keep expenditures as low as possible, then when some unexpected cost like this comes up, it makes it difficult."

The best way concerned citizens can help to solve the situation, according to Poteete, is to write elected officials (state and federal) and seek regulation of premium costs.

Council to consider adjustment

Georgetown City Council has a nine-item tentative agenda for its regular meeting Monday at 7 p. m. in the Council Room at City Hall.

Councilmen will consider an electrical rate adjustment and the sale of 18 Urban Renewal lots in the South San Gabriel Project. They will also open bids for construction of the Northwest Boulevard sewer and advertise for gas and oil bids.

In addition, the Planning and Zoning Commission will bring five matters before the Council.

It will recommend approval of the proposed Historical Zoning Ordinance and the final plat of Langford Estates.

The Commission will also recommend that the Council annex Quail Meadows I and II, River Bend I, II, and III, and post the annexation petition, and that the Council abolish an ordinance granting housing developers a $75-$100 utility rebate for every house or lot sold.

Passing Glance

stayed with his music, working hard and moving up. They had their family, two girls, and Edgar Martin achieved his ambition of becoming a college professor, at St. Mary's University in San Antonio, and earning a doctorate in his chosen field. Their daughter, Mrs. Marsha Spinner, came to Georgetown to teach music in our public schools. Then, as everything seemed wonderful, Edgar Martin became ill. Still a young man, he died last week and was buried back in Georgetown, near the grave of his father. His mother resides at the Wesleyan.

EDGAR MARTIN was an absolutely fine person. I doubt that he ever had a mean thought about anybody. It's hard to express how sorry all of us are that he had to leave so soon, when there was still so much ahead.

A CONTINUING CHALLENGE

The challenge—for everyone to keep trying to hold down his use of electricity, as much as one-third if possible. Since the energy crisis appeared, not much longer than a year ago, the whole nation has seen its utility rates soar and Georgetown has not been an exception. Only by individual restraints can we hope to lick this problem—and, at the same time—hold down our own utility bills. Listed here are seven suggestions how you can do your part. . . . start today!

IN HOMES

Seven suggestions to help save 30% electrical use:

1. Turn off every light that is not necessary.
2. Wait until you have a full load in your dishwasher and try to use it only once a day.
3. Clothes washers and dryers should not be operated at the same time, and do not use either until fully loaded. Reduce use of dryer to the minimum.
4. Use only one television set and restrict hours of viewing to your most favorite programs.
5. Keep air conditioning temperature settings as high as possible—at least 78 degrees during the day—and turn off the air conditioning, if possible, at night. Clean the filters every two weeks for more efficiency. Close your drapes and blinds on the sunny side of the house to keep out heat. Close off all unused rooms and spaces to reduce areas to be cooled.
6. Reduce the number of times you open your refrigerator and freezer doors—wait until you are ready to remove all of your needs at one time.
7. Curtail the use of hot water and other high-wattage appliances. Learn the number of watts your appliances use and choose the least power-hungry ones to do your work.

Just plain common sense in the use of any electrical operation can help immensely in solving this crisis.

Around this page you will find the relative amount of electricity that various electrical appliances use. This will help you determine the ones which use the most electricity, which should be the ones used wisely. (The "watt" is an electrical measurement. 1000 watts equal one kilowatt hour.)

COMMERCIAL CUSTOMERS AND OFFICE BUILDINGS

Six ways to help save 30% electrical use:

1. Eliminate unnecessary indoor lighting.
2. Reduce outside lighting to minimum safety levels.
3. Turn off all displays and signs and other unneeded power-hungry devices every night.
4. Reduce the number of floor display, lighted samples, like demonstrator TV's and refrigerators.
5. Set thermostat controls as high as possible on air conditioning systems—at least 78 degrees when the day is 88 degrees or higher outside. Completely turn off all units every night.
6. Invent six more ways and adopt them as rules for your employees to follow in your particular circumstances and reward yourself with a lower electric bill.
